

NEW WORLD GENERATION INC.

Thursday February 7, 2013

Dear Shareholder,

On Friday November 30, 2012, the board of New World Generation (NWG) approved sending a letter to all shareholders advising of a Special Meeting to be held on December 15, 2012. The Special Meeting was purposed to outline a possible transaction between BlueForest Int. (BLUF) and NWG.

On December 4, 2012, NWG was notified by the CEO, Chief Strategic Advisor and Legal counsel of BLUF that BLUF had commenced restructuring the company's share holdings by way of a reverse share split. The restructuring had an effect on the price of the share listed on the OTCQB public market.

The board of NWG then made the decision to postpone the Special Meeting with shareholders until such time that the restructuring of BLUF could be accomplished and that the board could be assured that this action would cause no adverse effects to the proposed transaction between the two companies.

While communications remain open, NWG and BLUF have withdrawn the letter of intent between the two companies. NWG received advice from counsel that certain clauses needed to be attached to any agreement with BLUF. This is meant to ensure that NWG shareholders be protected against dilution, until such time as the shares would be traded on the open market. Currently, BLUF is not in agreement with these protection clauses and as such the transaction cannot be recommended to shareholders. NWG shareholders will be kept apprised of any changes to the current situation with BLUF.

At this time, the board would also like to make you aware of an additional opportunity presented to NWG. A prominent Lobby Group, which secures funding directly through US legislature, has provided CWind with an agreement, which is currently under review.

The board of NWG would like to continue to keep shareholders apprised of any developments; however, it is a costly exercise every time a mail out is required. A letter will be sent to inform you of any special meetings, however from this point forward all information updates will be sent via email only. If you have not provided your email information to the office, please send a note to bmartinez@newworld-generation.com

Regards,

Peter Routliff
