January 31, 2017

Dear Shareholder,

Throughout the month of January, we have proceeded on several fronts:

1. NWG and Subsidiary Blue Box Technology will not be proceeding with Lexden Capital. Lexden was unable to complete the first of three milestones which were outlined in the December newsletter.
2. Blue Box Technology is continuing with the support of the NWG team and will be bring on some additional expertise within the electrical utility industry.
3. BBT has continued its marketing and sales approach with much success. Over the next few weeks, the company will be completing a detailed business plan and financial model which will provide incentives for customers to participate.
4. Blue Box Technology attended the Electrical Distribution Association conference held in Toronto last week. BBT has been requested to become a member and has met, and will be following up with several utilities across the Province.

New World Generation is continuing to make progress and will keep you apprised of any news.

Please visit the BBT website and download the brochure, we know you will find it interesting, www.blueboxtech.ca
