

NEW WORLD GENERATION INC.

February 28, 2017

Dear Shareholder,

In the month of February, New World Generation through its subsidiary company Blue Box Technology Inc. (BBT) has sourced and interviewed two new external Directors. Throughout the months of March and April, the corporation will be structured to include external industry experts from Independent Utilities in Ontario. New marketing materials are being developed and the BBT website will be updated with new information by the end of March. www.blueboxtech.net

The Company has also re-engaged the National Research Council of Canada to do some analytical work and in the near future some testing and validation on the BBT waste heat to power module. The Company continues to make introductions to industry and will continue to establish relationships with potential customers.

NWG has also hired a world-renowned turbo machine group, Concepts NREC to continue work on the BBT Bill of Materials, procurement and costing. The Company is also looking to align ourselves with some main suppliers for long term benefit.

Our team continues to build credibility and industry confidence and are trying to prepare ahead for a successful product launch.

The NWG Board of Directors